

NEXT STEPS PEER GROUPS MANIFESTO

Focusing on Next Steps For Continued Meaning and Fulfillment in Life

You have had (and may still be having) a successful business career and are in your 50's, 60's or 70's.

Up until now, business has been your primary focus. Now you are getting older and beginning to think about what is next in life and how do you stay relevant.

You want to be proactive about your future since you have plans to be around for a while and want to create a great quality of life.

You are beginning to think about issues like: what will be my legacy; what's next in my business career, personal relationships, financial security, health, wealth transfer, philanthropy, volunteer work, leisure time, travel, children, grandchildren, aging parents, etc.

You may struggle with the idea of change yet you know it is inevitable. When you were running your business, you had a purpose, a meaning, and an identity.

Perhaps you are interested in becoming reenergized and finding a new purpose, inspiration, feeling of happiness or just create a plan for the future.

Next Step Circles are for just such a group of people. Others, like you, value being real and having life conversations with respected and trusted peers who are in a similar situation as you are in and who see the value in learning, being inspired, supported and at times challenged.

They look forward to the meetings not only to catch up with each other but to openly share their issues and experiences in total confidentiality which underpins all that we do and discuss in the Next Steps Peer Groups.

The meetings are structured around topics of interest, are professionally facilitated and include guest speakers from time to time.

The groups are limited to 12 members and meet four times a year in person from 2pm to 6pm followed by an evening social dinner which is included in the cost of the program.
